INNOVATIVE CORPORATE FINANCE HOUSE BEANSTALK MANAGEMENT WORKS WITH SCYRON LIMITED IN SIGNIFICANT FUNDING ROUND

Beanstalk Management, the leading corporate finance house specialising in the small and mid-market, has been working with Scyron Limited on an important round of funding that will underpin further commercialisation of their technology and drive sales growth. Beanstalk Management's consulting-led approach has generated the depth of understanding of the business and its value that a successful funding process demands.

Scyron provides intelligence management solutions for the public safety and national security sectors. This venture-backed business was originally spun out of the University of Birmingham and has secured contracts to provide solutions to many police forces and intelligence organisations throughout the world.

"Beanstalk brought great focus and vigour to our planning process which is critical to the search for significant funding," said Mike Wilks, Scyron's CEO. "I have no hesitation in recommending their work to anyone looking for a professional and creative corporate finance business."

"The Scyron team have built a fantastic company over the past few years and have proven there is a real need for their intelligence management solutions," said Matthew Byatt, Director of Beanstalk Management. "The work Beanstalk has done to support Scyron with its current funding round will no doubt lay foundations for the success of the business long into the future."
